

Green X and ENGIE Japan Begin Collaboration on the "G-Connect" Platform to Expand Renewable Energy PPAs

Green X Inc.

December 16th, 2025

Green X Inc. (Headquarters: Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo; Chief Executive Officer: Hiroyuki Owada; hereinafter "Green X"), operator of the renewable energy platform "G-Connect," and ENGIE Japan (hereinafter "ENGIE"), a distributed energy resource aggregation company, have signed a memorandum of understanding (MOU) to position ENGIE as a partner aggregator for the "G-Connect" platform with the aim of expanding the use of renewable energy.

Overview and Purpose of the Partnership

Green X's renewable energy platform, "G-Connect," matches renewable energy power generation companies with consumers nationwide and provides services to support the establishment of PPAs (Power Purchase Agreements).

ENGIE's mission in Japan is to accelerate the country's energy transition by delivering tailored energy solutions. Drawing on the Group's global expertise and deep local market knowledge, our team provides comprehensive services -including energy risk management, balancing services, and renewable energy supply- to meet the specific needs of Japanese businesses.

Through the "G-Connect" platform, Green X and ENGIE will contribute to the development of PPAs and expand access to renewable energy, helping drive Japan's transition to a low-carbon economy.

The two companies will work together to establish a new trading model in Japan's renewable energy market and accelerate support for companies' decarbonization efforts.
